8 of 10 review helpful A fine scientist gets bedazzled by a cop and a camera crew By Stephen Marley I admire the work of paleontologist John A Long and gave a very enthusiastic review of his fine book The Rise of The Fishes Unfortunately Long like a few other academic paleontologists has dropped the requirement of scientific accuracy in favor of a biased polemic when it comes to the subject of fossil ownership For These days the sale of a dinosaur fossil for millions of dollars seems to take precedence over what scientific information may have been lost by its crude excavation or even whether it will end up in a proper museum to be cared for and preserved for all time In October 1996 rare dinosaur footprints were stolen from an isolated beach near Broome in Western Australia Not only was the scientific world horrified by the theft but it was also a violation of an Aboriginal sa About the Author Dr John Long is a palaeontologist at the Western Australian Museum and is the author of a number of popular science books including Mountains of Madness Allen Unwin 2000
